

Young Parents - Your Attention Please - Birth Injury

Do you have baby who suffered Birth Injury? Check it out with some experts and make sure. Some specialist Doctors are to be consulted. If you have a baby with birth injury, you have a case. You need help from a specialist Birth injury Lawyer, an expert. It is easy to find one on the internet. Check your case once again. Search for some articles on Birth injury on the internet. Now let's have a look. How does this happen? Difficult child birth, baby's size, position during labor and delivery and negligence are some of the vast and varied reasons. Some of the causes of Birth injury are:

Breech Delivery

Delayed Cesarean Section

Failure to notice Fetal Distress

Placenta Abruption

Medical Negligence A baby may be afflicted with any of the following:

Mental Retardation

Cerebral Palsy

Epilepsy

Autism Injury or defect or deformity, during or before or after the process of child birth, may be any one of the several birth injuries. Cerebral palsy is one of the most common types. And this cerebral palsy is a physical condition caused by brain damage. The four different types of cerebral palsy are:

1. Spastic cerebral palsy

2. Ataxic cerebral palsy

3. Athetoid cerebral palsy

4. Mixed cerebral palsy Cerebral palsy caused at the time of birth is asphyxia or lack of oxygen during the birth process. This is a complicated situation which is difficult to predict or prevent. Hemorrhage in the child's brain, an infection or illness in the mother like rubella, toxoplasmosis; low birth weight, intrauterine exposure to drugs or alcohol, premature birth are also reasons for cerebral palsy. The health care professionals such as doctors and nurses are trained to identify symptoms of cerebral palsy. And they do fail to recognize the problem of brain injury in newborn infants some times. This negligence may lead to cerebral palsy. And this negligence is certainly a case of medical malpractice. The parents can claim for compensation for life long care. Did you get an idea? The expert Lawyer in this case will do the rest. Trust him.

About the Author

Information regarding the medical programs and various research facilities.

Source: <http://www.productsherbal.com>