Silence Elvis

Why Ross Jeffries wants Mystery out of the way and why Mystery wants Elvis out of the way. In the case of Ross Jeffries aside from Eric Weber, he is the grandfather of this whole business. He taught David DeAngelo and then David being an average pua but a top notch marketer split with Ross Jeffries and ran with Ross's baby. Ross is the man behind the new seduction business. R.J., The man who started it all and David through better marketing is the guy raking in all the money. Then along comes the new hot shot top gun Mystery to take more out of Jeffries pie and he, understandably is in a fit of rage. Ad insult to injury along comes Elvis Preston King who is and has been a natural pick up artist all of his life and is and always has been the World's Number 1 Pick up Artist. Jeffries is just plain pissed. Elvis was previously a self-made millionaire and retired at 45 with millions, a Roll Royce stretch and thousands of girlfriends notched on his bedpost. He had no reason to come forward. He was enjoying his millions his stretch and his hot babes. In 2003 the king was dropped to his knees with a financial set-back. With no business and very low cash flow, he decided to finally come forward and announce to the world, his great success with women and his true love, being a committed pick up artist. Jeffries is not a happy camper as can be seen on his post over at Thundercat's Seduction Lair after the famous Cliff from Cliff announced that the king is the world's greatest pick up artist. In the past Jeffries has intimidated and even sued other pick-up artists to maintain his business advantage. The King understands Ross Jeffries frustration. After all the seduction gig is really Jeffries. However, when Cliff hung out with Ross Jeffries on a Caribbean island vacation Cliff went to his hotel room with his dick in his hand. When Cliff hung out with the King on a Caribbean vacation Cliff came home with notches on his belt for each and every day spent with the King and me, Alberto Prince. The proof is in the pudding my friend. Let me put it to you this way Ross, if Donald Trump could have his way your ass would be fired. In the case of Mystery, with his obsession for fame and attention, his desire to see the King silenced is out of fear of some one taking it all away. Mystery is very insecure and for him to learn about the king is truly similar to the fairy tale and the mirror mirror on the wall. Elvis can blow his shorts off and he knows it and it really hurts. He has been warring with the King since the King showed up. This is not about money this is personal. Mystery vs. Elvis. Elvis being a nice guy feels sorry for Mystery and wants to help him. Elvis even told me he would be willing to teach Mystery his High Speed Seduction Method that puts Ross's speed seduction back in the twentieth century where it belongs. David DeAngelo also appears to be scared to death that the King will take a big chunk out of his business. Cliff asked David D. to interview the Great Elvis on his Interview the Stars of Pick up and David has not contacted the King. These guys are all shaking in their boots over the real King of the Pick up, Elvis. And let me tell you they should be. Elvis has been looking for a wealthy retired guy just to hang out with and sarge for girls. Elvis would like a guy who really loves women but never got his fair share. Elvis picks up the girls, and Elvis's new buddy picks up the gas for Elvis's stretch and the tab for the good life. This guy is like looking for a needle in hay stack. I have a suggestion for the gurus who have these networks of guys who might have Elvis's guy. Run ads for the King. Get the King off your back. He told me that since he can't find his side-kick he is going to take over the e-book, cd, and dvd markets in the seduction business. He is writing a book right now. He is hating every minute of it. Why because he likes to be in the field sarging for hot babes. He has found his very own Colonel to help him do it. A multi-millionare marketer from Australia is just waiting for the king to produce a cd and write a book. Keep you eyes open for Elvis's Colonel. I heard them talking on the phone and Elvis really calls him Colonel! Additionally, there is a Hollywood producer and a producer from England fighting over the first movie deal with the King. Although Elvis says he knows a lot of movie people and they are flakey so he is not counting on that, but we'll see. I am giving you advance warning the King is about to make sure that the guys of the world are not Lonesome Tonight or any night with his new book and cd! The king told me that to mention that he thinks that Ross Jeffries and Mystery's Methods do have value. Look what Mystery did for Style. I know he picked up a little here and a little there. If Style is really serious about his game he needs to sarge with the King, Elvis Preston King. I know Elvis was quiet when Style was learning to be a pua and he probably never even heard of the World's Number 1 Pick up Artist before. How do I know all this. I am Elvis Preston King's student and wing man. I get laid every day and before I met the king I was just a regular drink buying idiot like all the rest of you. Now, I don't even buy my girls a cup of coffee. I get laid almost everyday by hot babes. I do try to peacock a little, jewelry and clothes. I agree with Mystery on this and so does the King. The King does a little peacocking once in a while in his Elvis style clothes. We occasionally use the photos with stars, presidents and hot girls. We were surprised to see Mystery using a similar technique. Long Live the King....and the seduction business. There are a lot of poor souls that need the King. Especially those guys who flamed the King on the Thundercat Seduction Lair. There is no doubt these guys are sexually frustrated including old R.J. What's it all about.....For Elvis and Alberto... GIRLS....For some of the other gurus.....MONEY...
