· Travelocity.com Flights to Kenya from UK & Ireland Discount air travel is a big business in London. Advertisements for many travel agencies appear in the travel pages of the weekend broadsheet newspapers, in the Time Out and Evening Standard, and in the free TNT magazine. Charter flights can work out as a cheaper alternative to scheduled flights and the package may include accommodation, which you aren't obliged to use if you want to travel around the country. Recommended travel agents include the following:

- Bridge the world 08704447474
- Flight centre 08708908099
- Flightbookers 08708144001
- North-South Travel 01245-608291
- Quest Travel 08704423542
- STA Travel 08701600599
- Trail finders

· Travel Bag 08708901456 Summer holiday tickets are incidentally cheaper for the UK & Ireland vacationers since their summer corresponds with low price regimes and high availability. The North American travelers are however disadvantaged by both the long distances hence more expensive tickets and low availability and peak season fluctuations. It's therefore advisable to at least book your Kenya vacation & holiday flights well in advance. Six months would be ideal, but even earlier is recommended. Always remember to reconfirm your return tickets in the high vacation seasons from Kenya. If you don't do it personally let your Kenya tour operator or Kenya Travel agent take the hassle away from you. Have your self an enjoyable Kenya safari.
