Suicide warning on some meds

1/02/2008 11:36:01

Doctors are being warned of a small increased risk of suicidal thoughts in patients taking anti-epileptic medicines.

The same medicines are also used to treat bipolar disorder, migraines and a number of other conditions.

MedSafe says the warnings are based on studies showing that for every 1,000 people taking the medicines, an additional two will have suicidal thoughts or behaviours.

It is advising patients to consult their doctor before making any changes to their medicine.
